The Stéaumont's loop

START : The water tank of Stéaumont, Fiménil

To join the starting point by car:

From the Place Stanislas in Bruyères, drive in Gerardmer's direction. Right after the level crossing, turn right and at 50meters, turn left in Fiménil's direction. In this town, take the road that goes up to the city hall. At the roundabout, continue straight for 500meters until the water tank. Here is the starting point of the walk.

This walk will appeal to all forest lovers. It crosses various forests : young or aging, resinous or deciduous trees, dense or sparse. According to the moment of the day or the season, you will be joined by the sound of the birds.

Before starting, enjoy the great view on Champ le Duc and Bruyères. Start on the tarred road named Chemin du Champ François, which also leads to Beauménil. You will see an old farm well renovated. At the first roundabout, turn right on Route du Champ François. Soon, you will enter in the forest. Enjoy the sound of the birds and the trees diversity. At the first junction, turn left in a climb which will become increasingly sloping. After getting back on a flat pathway, at the junction of four pathways, continue straight. A small meadow in the middle of the forest, attest of an old agricultural activity in this area.

After crossing a young pine tree plantation, let the climbing pathway to the right and continue for 50meters. Take the large pathway where vehicles are prohibited, a bit grassed, on your right. After some zigzags, you will walk on a nice forest pathway. Admire this nice wooded plot of big pines. Soon, turn right on a new pathway where vehicles are prohibited. Arrived on the large forestry road, turn left on the pathway that goes down. Soon, some houses will appear and you arrive on a tarred road. It makes you cross a hamlet, in which you can see away on your left, the heights of Lépages Sur Vologne. You are almost at the starting point.
